Required Materials and Technology:

- Required textbook – Speaking With Skill by Dudley Knight. Bloomsbury Publishing, ISBN 978-1-408-15689-6. NOTE: Buying a used copy or renting from an online source is fine.
- Required technology -- Computer, phone or tablet with internet capabilities to participate in synchronous Zoom classes. Video and audio recording capability through computer, phone or tablet to submit recorded assignments. See Technology Resources note below for more information.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES OVERVIEW

We are living in extraordinary times. The fact that you are choosing to move forward with your coursework, to continue to grow as an artist and learn your craft is no small thing. Finding flexibility and power and honesty and connection with your voice is a crucial skill right now -- and, I think, a metaphor for the larger work of this moment. Thanks for bringing yourself to this work!

Exploring speech is a listening and voicing process that is ideally done in person, with students learning from each other and sharing common experiences. While we will be in person, we will need to contend with the complications of wearing a mask, being distanced, etc. We don't get to choose the ideal right now, so we're going to do the best we can to create a framework for you to explore on your own and together, even with complicated circumstances.

HOW THIS COURSE WILL BE TAUGHT

Until otherwise instructed by the university, this course will be in-person. Everyone will need to be masked in the classroom, and we will sometimes meet in alternate spaces or in smaller groups in order to achieve social distance. All class meetings and tutorials will be held during the scheduled class time (Tuesdays or Thursdays, 12:30 - 1:50 pm)

COURSE PURPOSE

Through a physical, aural and cultural-based approach to speech for the stage, this course introduces and reinforces the art and skill of speech work as an integral part of the actor's craft. Through exercising and attuning hearing and articulation functions, the actor recognizes the phonetic basis of regional dialect and finds facility with flexible speech habits.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. To gain familiarity with the anatomy and physiology of speech along with an appreciation for the influence of culture on language pronunciation. (BA SLO 1,4) (BFA SLO 1)
2. To identify and evaluate characteristics of strong performance speech habits along with understanding methods of working with speech challenges. (BA SLO 1, 4) (BFA SLO 1)
3. To gain facility with the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) to enable evaluation of precise articulation and to lay the groundwork for future dialect work. (BA SLO 1, 4) (BFA SLO 1)
4. To apply expressive and flexible speech habits to text work for performance. (BA SLO 1, 3,) (BFA SLO 1, 4)

- To gain confidence in diagnostic self-awareness in order to maintain a practice of energetic speech for the stage. (BA SLO 1, 4) (BFA SLO 1)

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Reading –

- Assigned sections of the required textbook, as well as online articles as assigned.

Weekly Assignments –

- Written reflections on personal speech experience.
- Transcription of practice sounds and/or performance text.
- Working on practice sounds and monologues outside of class.

Exams –

Two written/oral exams during the course of the semester covering IPA symbols and class instruction material (Sept 23 and Oct 21), and a final written exam (Dec 9).

Monologue –

Preparation of a challenging monologue in order to apply speech skills to text work and performance, including preparing a detailed written score and transcription for the monologue. NOTE: This must be a new monologue to you, and may not be utilized for assignments in other department courses.

Performance Analysis –

A written analysis of performer speech work in the filmed version of a stage production available to watch online. Specific writing requirements are available on Canvas.

COURSE POLICIES

Participation/Attendance

In-class listening, practice, and discussion are a crucial part of the course, and to your commitment to being part of the Temple Theater community. Students should have the textbook on hand and be prepared to participate actively in each class. Daily participation grade will be based on active participation (Speak up! Offer positive critical feedback, ask questions, be verbally present in the class).

Grading

Participation – 20%

Weekly assignments (Blog responses, writing prompts, monologue transcription, monologue score, IPA cards) – 30%

Exams (2) and Final Exam – 30%

Performance analysis paper – 10%

Final performance – 10%

*Please note that any late assignments will accrue a 10% grade deduction each class period late. No late assignments will be accepted after the final class period on Dec 2.

Incomplete Grade Policy

Incomplete grades will be granted only in rare circumstances and require the approval of the instructor. Students who have not completed all the requirements prior to the last day of class will need to talk with the instructor about how this will be rectified.

Letter Grade Scale

A	93-100	C+	77-79	F	Below 65
A-	90-92	C	73-76
B+	87-89	C-	70-72
B	83-86	D+	67-69
B-	80-82	D	65-66

Artistic Excellence

The Temple University Department of Theater embraces the spirit of creative community-making both in the classroom and on stage. Theater is by nature a uniquely collaborative art form. During your time here as a student, you are in every respect called to be a supportive, contributing member of a large resident ensemble; committed at every level of endeavor, regardless of the task, to achieving artistic excellence in our work together as a company.

Class Conduct

In order to maintain a safe and focused learning environment, we must all comply with the four public health pillars: wearing face coverings, maintaining physical distancing, washing our hands and monitoring our health. It is also important to foster a respectful and productive learning environment that includes all students in our diverse community of learners. Our differences, some of which are outlined in the University's nondiscrimination statement, will add richness to this learning experience. Therefore, all opinions and experiences, no matter how different or controversial they may be perceived, must be respected in the tolerant spirit of academic discourse.

Treat your classmates and instructor with respect in all communication, class activities, and meetings. You are encouraged to comment, question, or critique an idea but you are not to attack an individual. Please consider that sarcasm, humor and slang can be misconstrued in online interactions and generate unintended disruptions. Profanity should be avoided as should the use of all capital letters when composing responses in discussion threads, which can be construed as “shouting” online. Remember to be careful with your own and others’ privacy. In general, have your behavior mirror how you would like to be treated by others.

Academic Honesty/Plagiarism

You are expected to do your own work and any form of academic dishonesty—plagiarism and cheating—is as unacceptable in this course as it is across the University and throughout higher education. Plagiarism is defined in the Bulletin as “the unacknowledged use of another person's labor, another person's ideas, another person's words, and another person's assistance.”

Disability Disclosure Statement

Any student who has a need for accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact me privately to discuss the situation as soon as possible. If you have not done so already, please contact Disability Resources and Services at 215-204-1280, Ritter Annex, Room 100, to learn more about the resources available to you. I will work with DRS to coordinate reasonable accommodations for all students with documented disabilities.

Academic Rights and Responsibilities

Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The University has adopted a policy on Student and Faculty Academic Rights and Responsibilities (Policy # 03.70.02) which can be accessed through the following link: http://policies.temple.edu/getdoc.asp?policy\_no=03.70.02.

Recording and Distribution of Recordings of Class Sessions

In the event of a shift to an online modality, synchronous class sessions may be recorded for the purpose of accommodating students who are unable to attend class because of covid-related issues. If you have a concern about being recorded in this manner, please contact me at the start of the semester. Any recordings permitted in this class can only be used for student educational use. Students are not permitted to copy, publish, or redistribute audio or video recordings of any portion of the class session to individuals who are not students in the course or academic program without the express permission of the faculty member and of any students who are recorded. Distribution without permission may be a violation of educational privacy law, known as FERPA as well as certain copyright laws. Any recordings made by the instructor or university of this course are the property of Temple University.

Technology Usage Policy

Students are responsible to follow Temple University Technology Usage Policy which includes information on unauthorized access, disclosure of passwords, and sharing of accounts. The policy can be accessed at <https://secretary.temple.edu/sites/secretary/files/policies/04.71.11.pdf>

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

The following academic support services are available to support you:

Student Success Center

University Libraries
Undergraduate Research Support
Career Center
Tuttleman Counseling Services

Fundamental needs:

If you are experiencing food insecurity or financial struggles, Temple provides resources and support. Notably, the Temple University Cherry Pantry and the Temple University Emergency Student Aid Program are in operation as well as a variety of resources from the Office of Student Affairs.

Technology resources:

Limited resources are available for students who do not have the technology they need for class. Students with educational technology needs, including no computer or camera or insufficient Wifi-access, should submit a request outlining their needs using the Student Emergency Aid Fund form. The University will endeavor to meet needs, such as with a long-term loan of a laptop or Mifi device, a refurbished computer, or subsidized internet access.
